17	1/23/2019	Stephen	Mapu	Lakewood	California	United States	The future of the working middle class Americans are being out source to technology. This is not only going to affect the labor union but local businesses that surrounds the waterfront. People who work at the waterfront including outside truckers need a place to eat and to stay. With automation the corporation makes their cut and no one else.
18	1/23/2019	Marco	Vasquez	Long Beach	California	United States	Automation kill jobs
19	1/23/2019	MERI	IVIC	SAN PEDRO	California	United States	Working as casual longshoreman and need to stay employed. This is critical to southern California economy. Thousands of hard working Americans will be outta work. Whoâ€™s jobs are next to be taking away due to automation.

These billion dollar companies have no interest in working to keep our terminals safe for the people who work there so automation is a way to not have to deal with all the safety aspects of our jobs. They don't want to answer to no one. Bottom line is making money. At the cost of loss of jobs and less money going back into the communities.

						Automation takes jobs away from longshore men and women trying to provide for their families. Yards that have already automated are reporting a significant decrease in productivity and down time due to repairs. This will delay retailers from receiving their products. It will take away jobs now and the future

102	1/23/2019	Frank	Bivinetto	Long Beach	California	United States	My job and livelihood will be taken from me and thousands of others if this automation happens. It is important to persevere American jobs from loss to automation. Technology being incorporated into jobs is inevitable, we must ensure we use it correctly. Measures should be taken to allow technology to improve the safety of work, rather than displace the work force.

116	1/23/2019 David	Marsden	Torrance	California	United States	I am a casual and this takes work away from us. Taking food off my familys dinner table.
117	1/23/2019 Ralph	Melgoza	Long Beach	California	United States	Automation takes away peopleâ€™s jobs. It also doesnâ€™t allow hard, honest working people to stimulate the local economy.
118	1/23/2019 Andres	Burrola	Lomita	California	United States
119	1/23/2019 Kristie	Solorio	Wilmington	California	United States
120	1/23/2019 Kathleen	Gabel	San Pedro	California	United States	Because overall it will hurt the American worker and families- We are not talking about 100 or 200 people we are talking about families its numerous peopleâ€™s lives from young to old destroyed because of automation - Letâ€™s keep people working and give them Pride in what they do and how they are giving back to the economy -

Automation of the ports terminals takes away local jobs and is bad for the local economy. As a 14 year Casual Longshoreman and someone who is not quite ready to retire, I would like to continue working and possibly get into the union someday. Mearsk is the largest Terminal in the port. If they automate I'm told some 3000 jobs will be lost. Most likely mine will be one of them. If I don't have a job, I don't get paid. If I don't get paid, I can't make purchases. If I don't get paid and I can't make purchases, I don't support local businesses, I don't pay Local taxes, I don't pay State taxes, and I don't pay Federal taxes. Plus, I go on the State's dole by filing for Unemployment, and potentially Welfare. And if things get bad enough, I sell my house, take my profits and move to another State because it is way to expensive to live in California without a decent living wage.

So yes, I am very much against a foreign controlled company automating a U.S. port in order to increase foreign profits, at the cost of local U.S. labor, who support local businesses, and watch the foreign company take those profits offshore, leaving nothing for our local community.

THE FUTURE OF OUR SOLID UNION WHO HAS PROVED THAT MANPOWER HAS EXCEEDED NUMBERS EVERY YEAR.

Our future

Iâ€™m a longshoreman & by companies going to automation, it takes jobs away. By taking jobs away, it means that we wonâ€™t be able to provide for our families & give the quality of life they all deserve. We also want our kids to grow up & follow our footsteps as longshoreman on the LA/LB waterfront.

701	1/23/2019 Nora	Torres	Long Beach California	United States	Will take jobs away Automation isn't about humanities well-being but more profits for the self-serving greedy. Technology doesn't make life better it robs it. We humans can manage just fine without it have for thousands of years and now they think their going to come along and take it all? Hmm? maybe its time to stop fighting among ourselves over skin color and gender and start taking back our country and daily loss of freedom. Standing together united anything is possible, divided is what their counting on. NO! We the People say NO. not now not ever. There are far more of us then them and they need to be put in their place. If we don't more and more will be taken, laws will be passed restricting every man, woman and child's freedom, because if they control all the money, which is what they intend to do, we will be nothing more than slaves. Presently they may seem to have the power, but the real truth brothers and sisters WE ARE THE DAMN POWER. They have been using our fear against us, they have systematically force fed us racism. Don't we have minds of our own? I don't need to be dictated who I'm suppose to hate. It's not about color it's about having total control and the only way that can happen is to keep humanity divided. Here's some food for thought...What do you think the Wall is for? Is it to keep them out, who ever them is or to keep us in? Automation {none human robots} running rapid across our nation {and the world for that matter} taking our jobs to make a bigger profit, No work...no food, no home, no car and now a big wall you can't get out if you wanted to. It's not to late, we don't have to live in a reality we don't want. It's their reality don't buy it. It's got to be love and do what you know is right in your heart. Cut humanities skin they all bleed the same color.

Itâ€™s important because automation will only place many longshoremen out of employment and impact the economic status of many people who count on this job as their lifeline. 1724	2/22/2019 Juan	Martinez	Wilmington	California	United States

					This not only effect us as workers, but this will also have a tremendous effect on this city. People think not having to pay workers will make them more money. But if no one is making money then no one is spending money. So they will make money on the front end but over time they will run out as well robots do not spend money. People do. So this is not only vital to our city but to the welfare of our country

1919	2/22/2019 Christina	Romero	Montebell	California	United States	Longshoreman jobs are extremely important to the economic health of the surrounding cities but also to the state as a whole. While automation may save money for the shippers, theoretically, on one side it will take money away from the California economy while allowing shippers to reap the profits without any responsibility to the longshoremen, local area, and the State of California. No automation until a better strategic plan, developed by all stakeholders, is adopted and put in place protecting workers and the economy. Develop a common sense fair approach to automation and the future of the ports. We donâ€™t need to be another Detroit, Michigan.

						We must understand everything is good in moderation technology is great until it takes jobs away from families if the population grows each year the amount of jobs must increase as well not decrease its upto us to be responsible and tame technology to ensure the human race still has a role in the future society

U have given up the last 15 years of my life in the Casual Hall in the hopes of getting registered and making this my career. It is frankly an evil attack against the human race to allow robots to take over our very livelihood. We will set the tone for our country and the world. Today it's our job and tomorrow it's yours. This can't be allowed under any circumstance. Our families and community will not be able to survive the devastation caused by automation. Technology should exist to better our lives not destroy them. My very life is hanging on this decision. I pray for compassion and mercy and hope that whoever reads this will never have to suffer the same fate.

						I am a retired longshoreman, having worked the Vancouver, B.C. waterfront for over 40 years, and I am well aware of the greed and corruption motivating the implementation of machines over people. Longshore workers are of the highest quality and expertise; they deserve the very best treatment and respect for the valiant work they do. Workers are not statistics; nor are they replaceable through mechanization. ~ An Injury To One Is An Injury To All ~ Wake up everybody!! This is of paramount importance and requires immediate action. ~

						Work as longshoreman for last 43 years in port of seattle must stop automation in all ports long live the I.L.W.U.and the working class.....
						It's a stand against big corporations that have transformed the "AMERICAN DREAM" over the last few decades to keeping the Blue Collar worker in the JOB Category or "Just Over Broke" from what use to be that you can WORK, SWEAT AND BLEED for a company and you can live well and provide for your family and afford to retire. ILWU must maintain the strong hold over big corporations that take Advantage of the American worker.

2325	2/23/2019 Josue	Caban	Long beach California	United States	I am in the process of buying a new home ðŸ here in California. But if my job is at risk and taken over by automation. Then their ainâ€™t no reason what so ever in me investing in buying a home in the state of California. Price of the home lâ€™m looking at is from 600,000 to 800,000. I know not to invest in any house/property especially around the harbor areas because those earas and areas beyond the harbor will be destroyed economically. We are looking at a economic meltdown in many cities because this automation. It just doesnâ€™t effect the working class longshoremen. It affects all of California as a whole. P.s I stop looking in purchasing a home/property in California Because of this situation, automation is a direct threat in killing AMERICAN jobs and all communities in and around the harbor areas but not limited to the rest of the state of California.

						Port automation doesn't only kill jobs for dockworkers, but also undercuts the tax base and social fabric of the whole surrounding community. Customers dependent on the port do not benefit either. Prizes are not affected but productivity goes down dramatically when skilled human labor is replaced with a sensitive, slow system that has very limited capacity to adapt to changes or demands.
						The only ones who stand to win in the end are shipping giants and affiliated port operators who cut long term costs by undermining the dockers' trade union with the never-ending threat of increasing automation and job losses.

							My job and my livelihood. I was lucky enough to get this job so i can take care of myself after a 30-year marriage that ended with me having nothing. This is the only way I'm going to survive in the world. I don't want to be homeless I can't live less than what I'm making now. The cost of living is so high. Apartmrnys are extremely high priced and the miney it takes to get i to onw is astronomical. Thats wjy we have so many homeless. Everyone ia one paycheck from bei g homeless. This job makes me ans so manybothets fro. Bei g thst person on the street.

Now the Port of Long Beach and the Port of LA is allowing foreign companies to operate these container terminals with automation resulting not only in the loss of hundreds and possibly thousands of jobs but also stop the growth of these good jobs to future young Americans. Our officials are just as guilty by not stipulating in the lease to these foreign companies to not allow automation. Why would our City, Port and State officials who benefit from taxpayers allow foreign companies to steal money from American pockets and spend it in their own foreign land? Doesn't sound like they support America so why should we support them?

3,586	Ian Michaelis	San Pedro, CA	It's important to me because this is my livelihood. My children depend depend on my pay check. California is way to expensive to live and if we lose our jobs ill have to up root my fqmily from the city i was born and raised in, the city where my loved ones are buried. Iv lost friends and family to a job we love and it will be all for nothing if they BREAK theyre contract. We voted for automation to make work easier and more efficiant like computers not artifcial intelligence that knows when to stop and when its safe to go. This will put cities in ruin at least 3 long beach wilmington and san pedro thrive sue to the docks and if this passes those 3 cities will be ghost towns
